

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Front End Developer position at Newgen Technologies, Inc. as advertised on Dice. With a solid background in Front End Development and expertise in Drupal development, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my skills and experience to your dynamic team.

As a seasoned Front-End Developer, I have had the privilege of working on numerous projects where I played a key role in designing and implementing user-friendly, responsive interfaces. My experience spans over 10 years, and I have honed my skills in HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, and various JavaScript frameworks such as React and Gatsby. My ability to create visually appealing and intuitive web experiences has consistently resulted in positive user feedback and increased user engagement.

One area of specialization that sets me apart is my proficiency in Drupal development. Over the course of my career, I have successfully developed and maintained several dozen Drupal-based websites for a variety of clients, including AT&T, Discover, Home Depot, Lockheed Martin and Toyota. My expertise in Drupal includes custom theme development, module implementations, site configurations, and performance optimization, ensuring that websites built on this platform are both robust and user-friendly.

I am a highly collaborative team player who thrives in a fast-paced, creative environment. My ability to communicate effectively with cross-functional teams, including designers, project managers and client associates, has contributed to the successful completion of numerous projects within budget and on time.

Attached is my resume, which provides additional details about my professional background and accomplishments. Additionally, feel free to browse my personal site which showcases an array of projects built in Drupal, React, and other front-end technologies I enjoy working with. You can also contact me via phone or email using one of my contacts listed above.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of joining your team and contributing to the continued success of Newgen Technologies, Inc.

Sincerely,

Steve Case
